

A large, vertically oriented rectangular area with rounded corners, defined by a double-line border. It contains eight horizontal lines spaced evenly down the page, serving as a writing template.

A large, empty rectangular area with rounded corners, defined by a double-line border. This area is intended for writing or drawing.