

Thinking and Controlling

- Controlling your body starts with a thought in your brain.
- Sometimes this is your own thought, sometimes it is automatic.
- Your brain sends a signal through your nerves to your body.
- Information from your senses is sent back through your nerves to your brain.

