

What are the Perseid Meteors?

The Perseids are small rocks (some as small as a grain of sand) that were part of a passing comet. When they enter the Earth's atmosphere, they burn up producing bright streaks across the night sky.

